Varna aerial view

Varna, Bulgarian: ■■■■■■, pronounced [■varn■], is the third-largest city in Bulgaria and the largest city and seaside resort on the Bulgarian Black Sea Coast and in the Northern Bulgaria region. Situated strategically in the Gulf of Varna, the city has been a major economic, social and cultural centre for almost three millennia. Historically known as Odessos (Ancient Greek: ■δησσ■ς), Varna developed from a Thracian seaside settlement into a major seaport on the Black Sea

Varna sea garden

The Sea Garden (Bulgarian ■■■■■■■ ■■■■■■■■, romanized: Morska gradina), or formally the Seaside Park (Bulgarian ■■■■■■■■■■ ■■■■, romanized: Primorski park) is the Bulgarian port city of Varna's largest, oldest and best known public park. It is also said to be the largest landscaped park in the Balkans. Located along the city's coast on the Black Sea, it is an important tourist attraction and a national monument of landscape architecture.
